PROPOSALS,

FOR PUBLISHING IN THE CITY OF BANGOR, A PUBLICATION TO BE CALLED THE EASTERN MAGAZINE.

Edited by Mrs. M. P. Carter.

It will be the aim of the Publisher to render his work not only amusing and interesting, but instructive; or in a word worthy the patronage of an American public. It will not be his object to overhaul again, the hackneyed incident and history of the old world, for subject, but rather to bring to light and develop the resources of our own country; than which none is richer in themes, whether in a literary, moral or political point of view.

The Publisher is aware that his work must be considered in the light of an experiment, local and home-made—as it is intended to be. But he trusts to the patriotism and self respect of the American people; and those of New England in particular, for success: and he feels confident that the patronage hitherto awarded to Periodicals, which, though worthy of merit as literary, were only the reflections of Europe and Europeans; will not be refused to one which is professedly American.

It is the intention of the publisher, as soon as the length of his subscription list will warrant the expense, to enhance the value of his work by the addition of Engravings of American scenery, and Music by American composers.

The Magazine will be published on or about the first of every month, at the low price of $2.00 in advance or $2.50 if payment is delayed till the third number.

Any person who will procure seven subscribers and become responsible for the same, shall receive one copy of the Magazine while they continue.

Postage must be paid on all communications sent by mail—unless the letter contain names of new subscribers or money.

Communications intended for the Magazine, or those on business, to be directed to the Publisher,
JOHN S. CARTER, No. 44, Main street, Bangor.

A BACHELOR'S IDEA OF A WIFE. A wife should have nine qualifications which begin with the letter P. Piety, Perseverance, Patience, Prudence, Patriotism, Politeness, Persuasion, Penetration, and Portion. That which should be first of all, and most of all in consideration, which is piety, is now-a-days the least of all, the last of all, and with many not at all. That which should be the last of all, and least of all in consideration, which is portion, is now become first of all, most of all, and with some all in all.

CHALK. Colonel Dodge, of the United States Army, has lately found a quarry of Chalk near the Missouri. This mineral had not before been discovered in our country, though sought for and supposed to exist: except that Professor Nuttall detected some, a few years ago, in the western country, but less pure and of less extent than that discovered by Col. Dodge. It is probably known that Chalk is formed by the carbonate of lime, and is a neutral or compound salt; but pure Chalk has not before been found in the United States.

Every age has its peculiar vice: the young suffer by their insatiable thirst after pleasure; and the old, by their inordinate and incorrigible avarice. But we should ever guard against those vices that are chiefly incident to our times of life; excess and riot, while we are young; and egregious parsimony, as we grow in years.
